Emily and her rats

Emily had wanted pet rats for a long time so she saved up her pocket money and read many books so she would know how to care for them. She bought a large rat cage and one Saturday her dad took her to The Blue Cross animal shelter. She chose two small female rats with brown heads and white bodies. She called them Nibble and Gnaw.

Each day Emily fed them and she checked they had clean water. Each evening she took them out to play in her room. At the weekend Emily cleaned them out and gave them fresh bedding.
